In regard to claims 1,2 and 8, Kluver discloses the invention as claimed including bailing machine 10, wrapping roll 44 supplying sheets of wrapping material 42, feed elements in the form of drive roller 66 and a magnetic sensor 58, which detects the presence of the sheet material by sensing the feed of the material (see Figs. 1,2,5 and C6,L6-42).

In regard to claims 6 and 7, Kluver discloses the invention as claimed including and electronic control 94 which controls the feed of material 42 and with the sensor 58 and reed switch 61 working in conjunction with the control unit (see Fig.1 and C10,L48 – C11,L43).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kluver.

Kluver discloses the invention substantially as claimed including a sensor 58 located upstream of the packaging roll (see Fig.2). What Kluver does not disclose is a sensor that is located downstream of the packaging material and additional sensors to sense the material. However, it would have been an obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have provided a sensor located

DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority based on an application filed in Germany on 3/22/03. It is noted, however, that applicant has not filed a certified copy of the 103 12 897.2 application as required by 35 U.S.C. 119(b).

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement filed 3/10/04 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(3) because it does not include a concise explanation of the relevance, as it is presently understood by the individual designated in 37 CFR 1.56(c) most knowledgeable about the content of the information, of each patent listed that is not in the English language. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1,2,6,7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kluver et al (US 5,568,716).

downstream at the end of travel of the wrapping material, since it has been held that rearranging parts of an invention involves only routine skill in the art. In re Japiske, 86 USPQ 70. Furthermore, while Kluver only discloses one sensor to sense the feed material, it would have been an obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have provided multiple sensors, since it has been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. St. Regis Paper Co. v. Bemis Co., 193 USPQ 8.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Anstey et al, Frerich et al, Swearingen et al, Espinosa, Pennini et al and Naaktgeboren et al have been cited to show devices having similar structure.

8. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Paul Durand whose telephone number is 703-305-4962. The examiner can normally be reached on 0730-1800, Monday - Thursday.
